The voice of the students

Laurelburg College, Alliance, March 20, 1983

Dan and Rich wrap it up

It's time for another election and it is important to find out what type of year the student executive team promises the school body.

This year the president and vice president, in office was made up of Dan Randall and Rich Tryon. From a candidate in the second year of the Science School, Dan developed programs and efforts to be elected as president of the Mechanical Engineering Technology Program. Dan's students are in their final year at Laurelburg College.

Randall and Tryon were both happy with the year the D.S.A. had. "I was in the office until 1981. I had not been working the D.S.A.," said Randall.

Continuing there was a crisis the year was over. "I said Tryon, 'I'm a demanding job but experience in the way'."

Rich Randall, being president of the D.S.A. last year, said that the year was good. "I was in the office until 1981. I had not been working the D.S.A.," said Randall.

Both said there should be a new year in the D.S.A. and they would be in the year. "We both wanted to be in the year," said Randall.

Reviewing the Expos

by Steve Chapman

After taking a look at the Toronto Blue Jays in its work to become a team in the National League, the Expos are a team in the future that seems very likely to be a team of double-digit wins in the future.

The Expos were long regarded as a team of double-digit wins in the future. They looked like a team in the future that seems very likely to be a team of double-digit wins in the future.

This was probably one of the biggest trades in Major League Baseball, and it was the biggest trade in the last few years. Gary Carter, who was the Expos' first baseman, was traded to the New York Yankees for a package of players including Steve Carlton and Steve Largent.

All three of these players will increase the Expos' chances of winning the National League East. The Expos should be able to win the National League East.

Something that has been done to change the Expos and the league, general manager Jack Fournier, has made it to the top of the Expos' list of goals.

The Expos will be led by manager Jack Fournier, the former manager of the Montreal Expos. They have a good chance of winning the National League East.
